

The Most Holy Trinity

The Most Holy Trinity

God sent his Son to save us and to forgive us, making us his adopted children. Like the Trinity of persons, may we be united in peace and love through the Spirit, through whom we offer God praise and glory.

Blessed Trinity

The dogma of three Persons in one God. Although in God there is one nature there are three distinct persons in that nature: the Father, the Son who proceeds from the Father by generation, and the Holy Spirit who proceeds from the Father and the Son by spiration. The three Divine Persons are co-equal, co-eternal, and consubstantial; hence, they deserve coequal glory and adoration. All life begins in the Trinity, comes from the Trinity, and is destined to end in the Trinity.

Every liturgical action begins “in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit...” It is because the faithful are baptized “in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit” that they can celebrate the Covenant in virtue of their universal priesthood. They can not only prepare themselves for the salvific action wrought by the Trinity but also enter into the very life of the Three Divine Persons (grace). The Liturgy of the heavenly Jerusalem, in which the earthly Liturgy really shares, is the perfect insertion of the Church, the Spouse and Body of Christ, into the Life of the Son, begotten by the Father in the Holy Spirit and flowing back to the Father in the same Spirit.

Respect Life

May we defend the truth that all have been endowed by their Creator with a right to life with the same courage as our veterans have defended our freedom.

We pray to the Lord...

Annunciation Catholic School

Gently used uniforms that have been donated to ACS are on the cafeteria stage for students and their families to try on and take for school year 2017-18. This is a free service. Everyone is encouraged to stop by the school this week from 9-12 to look at the uniforms and take whatever they can use. We are doing this early so that families can see what is available for free before making additional purchases. If you have any uniforms that you would like to donate to the school, drop them off this week.

A Stewardship Moment

The Most Holy Trinity

In today’s second reading Saint Paul’s final appeal is a call for unity. God created that unity. Good stewards who share Christ’s life in the Eucharist belong to each other, just as God in the three persons of father, Son and Holy Spirit enjoy unity. We are an intimate part of God’s divine bond, God’s “family.” Saint Paul maintains that we ought to act that way. In the Church there is a bond of family, yet plenty room for variety. Christian stewards use their uniquely varied gifts to live a Trinitarian faith, in unity, promoting Christ’s peace and justice. How do we promote unity in our parish?

CONSTANT DISTRACTIONS IN OUR DAILY LIVES (Part 1 of 2)

There are two ways to go through life: Mindfully or mindlessly. In the first instance, we pay attention. We see things and notice them in order to appreciate them. We hear things in order to understand them. We seek to know things not superficially but in their wholeness. We live in the present moment and experience the world with wonder, tasting its mysteries with full appreciation.

In the second instance, we are distracted. We see things but do not notice them. We hear things but do not understand them. All the information of our senses is received with the bare minimum of attention. Our whole life is a haze, a fragmented series of a barely conscious sense impressions.

The first describes the mode of the person who sees fully and feels deeply. The second describes the frequently fragmented attention of modern man, and this is in no small part due to omnipresent technology.

I possess a smartphone, and there are frequently times I am thankful for its benefits. Yet, as often as I am thankful, I am equally disgusted with it. For my phone has a way of drawing me inevitably away from the present moment. A brief consultation for a specific purpose quickly finds me distracted by a barrage of information flowing at me incessantly through a brightly colored screen. It is a machine designed for one purpose—to absorb and hold my attention for as long as possible.

Whether or not we realize it, our attention is now a commodity to be bought and sold. We think we are mindlessly relaxing, scrolling through our Instagram or Twitter or Facebook feed. In reality, advertisers are purchasing our attention and using the years of social data we have given them to know what we want before we know we want it. And it works. It is nearly irresistible. It is designed to be so.

It could be argued legitimately that every technology has tradeoffs and that internet enabled phones are no exception. The problem is, digital devices are designed to fragment attention, where other technologies are intended to augment it. An apt example is a book. A book is actually a piece of technology for relaying information. After the advent of the printing press, books became the most widely used system of information exchange.

But reading is an entirely different experience than scrolling on Facebook. Reading focuses your attention and draws you into a deep state of flow—of concentration without effort. Reading causes you to pass through the particular words into the realm of ideas and, in the case of fiction, imagery and emotions. The whole structure of a book, from the font to the layout of words on a page, is designed to aid and augment concentration. — to be continued next Sunday.
